

Good Morning Destiny

LYRICS BY KRISTIN FESSLER

Verse 1

Wrapped up in you as the morning arrives,
First thing I see is your lovely face.
Lying next to you still gives me the chills.
One touch from you makes my heart race.

As the sunlight streams through the window,
It's not shining as bright as you.
So I hide beneath the covers,
Kisses from my lover,
I just wanna stay here with you.

Chorus

Good morning, destiny.
Waking up to a dream come true.
You're the one I couldn't see coming.
Now I'm forever getting lost in you.

Verse 2

I love the first kiss in the morning,
My palms sweat and your cheeks flush.
Take a deep breath and hold on to this moment
Before the world catches up with us.

Chorus

Good morning, destiny.
I'm waking up to a dream come true.
You're the one I couldn't see coming.
Now I'm forever getting lost in you.

Bridge

I try to fight these feelings,
That last all day.
But all these thoughts of you
Won't go away.

Breakdown

Good morning, destiny.
My fears are fading one by one.
Good morning, destiny.
I finally found the one.

Final Chorus

Good morning, destiny.
I'm waking up to a dream come true.
You're the one I couldn't see coming.
Now I'm forever getting lost in you.

Good morning, destiny.
I'm waking up to a dream come true.
You're the one I couldn't see coming.
Now I'm forever getting lost in you.

Outro

Oh, I'm forever getting lost in you.
Now I'm forever getting lost in you.
You're the one I couldn't see coming.
Now I'm forever getting lost in you.

A tender love song about waking beside the person who turns an ordinary morning into a dream come true. It captures the surprise and gratitude of realizing that the love you never saw coming has quietly become your destiny.
