PROFESSIONAL SONGWRITER BIO

The Story Behind the Songs

I'm Kristin — a songwriter and storyteller who believes some of the best songs start long before anyone picks up a guitar.

They start with real life: a conversation you can't forget, a person you miss, falling in love, losing it, starting over, or one ordinary moment that somehow turns into a line you can't get out of your head.

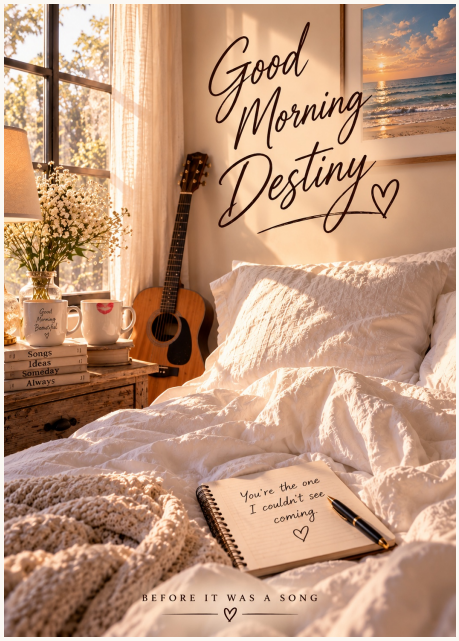

For me, songwriting is about finding the story hiding inside those moments and turning it into something someone else can hear and say, "I've felt that too." Before It Was A Song shares where the songs came from, how they were written, and everything that happened before they became songs.
